

NOTES FROM BANDON.

Bandon, Monday Evening, August 27.—I have been reading through the western districts of the county of Cork during the last few days, and in every place I have seen an abundant harvest. The weather since Thursday has been very variable, sometimes very heavy rain, and sometimes very dry, and the crops are in the best of health, and yesterday until the evening, have been very dry, but it has been very much improved since then. The rain has in many places lodged the heavy rain, but it has not done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury.

It is gratifying to find that the crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury.

The condition of all classes of the people in the west of Cork has been improved, considerable numbers of the poor have been employed, and labour has been in great demand. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury.

It is gratifying to find that the crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury.

There is in the town two large Established churches, one of which is a very elegant structure, recently built, and the other is a very old one, and is in a state of decay. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury.

An air of comfort and independence to their dwellings, and in quite visible in the improved cultivation of their lands. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury.

Bandon, in late years, has produced some eminent scholars, and in its not largely endowed school three of the most distinguished scholars have been sent forth. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury.

It is gratifying to find that the crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury.

The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury.

It is gratifying to find that the crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury.

IRISH FISHERIES.

Upon the Fisheries of Ireland has been written for the first time, and in a most interesting and comprehensive manner. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury.

It is gratifying to find that the crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury.

The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury.

It is gratifying to find that the crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury.

TENANTS' COMPENSATION BILL.

DEAR SIR,—I think that every tenant in Ireland, and every farmer who has a right to the soil, will be glad to see the prospect of the Tenants' Compensation Bill. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury.

It is gratifying to find that the crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury.

The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury.

It is gratifying to find that the crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury.

SIR CHARLES NAPIER—THE TIMES.

The following letter from Sir Charles Napier to the editor of the Times has been forwarded to the Morning Post for publication. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury.

It is gratifying to find that the crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury.

The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury.

It is gratifying to find that the crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury.

LATEST INTELLIGENCE.

On Monday 3,000 men embarked at Marseilles for the East. A well informed correspondent of the Independent says that since the month of June 50,000 troops have been sent to the East. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury.

On the 15th the French and English troops opened fire on Sebastopol. The French extended from the Quarantine to the sea. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury.

The Times says that it is considered that much of the mischief done by the late cholera epidemic was due to the want of a sufficient number of the population being vaccinated. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury.

It is gratifying to find that the crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury.

The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury. The crops are in the best of health, and the weather does not seem to have done much injury.